Autism Assist
Support for Developmental Disabilities

Autism Assist, powered by Rethink, an award-winning web-based program, supports caregivers like you raising children with learning challenges, behavior issues, and developmental disabilities.

Features and resources
- Over 1,500 videos about language, socialization, self-help, academics and more
- Printable materials such as flashcards, worksheets, schedule templates and token boards
- Customized learning plans based on your child's individual needs
- Online engagement community for families and caregivers
- Behavior experts available around-the-clock for phone or live virtual consultations

How to get started
Autism Assist services are available for Yale University faculty, managerial and professional staff, and post-doctoral associates. Contact Magellan Healthcare at the phone number below to confirm your eligibility and receive your access code today. Then, complete an assessment at http://yale.rethinkbenefits.com. You can then schedule a consultation with a behavior expert to create an individualized plan for your child. Behavior experts can answer questions and provide guidance, helping your children reach their top potential.

When you and your family members need assistance, reach out anytime and we will help get you on the right path to meet your needs.
