3 REMINDER OF OBLIGATIONS ASSOCIATED WITH EXTERNAL FUNDING

Below is a copy of an email from Pamela S. Caudill, Senior Associate Provost for Research Administration that was sent to Yale Faculty on November 30, 2020.

Dear Faculty:

I would like to take this opportunity to remind researchers of some important responsibilities related to being trusted with funding from external sponsors, highlight new policies and guidance from our federal sponsors, and describe some additional resources available. This communication includes updates on:

- International Research Collaborations and Disclosure Requirements
- Progress Reports
- Publications
- Equipment
- Prohibited Vendors for Technology
If you have any questions, please contact Lisa Mosley, Executive Director, Office of Sponsored Projects at lisa.mosley@yale.edu or 203-785-3680.

International Research Collaborations and Disclosure Requirements
The Office of Research Administration recently published a new website which provides information to the Yale community on safeguarding international research collaboration. This website also includes FAQs relating to disclosure requirements of external activities to federal sponsors and new guidance on external activities.

Two federal agencies have published additional guidance on required disclosures:

• The NIH has recently issued updated guidance on Protecting U.S. Biomedical Intellectual Innovation.
• The NSF has issued FAQ’s for Current and Pending Support.

These links are also included on the newly published website.

Progress Reports
For federal grants, ensure that the Federal Research Performance Progress Report (commonly referred to as, RPPR) includes:

• All individuals who worked on the sponsored project for one month or more, even if they were not paid directly from the grant
• All international travel for those working on the award
• All publications, journals/juried conference papers, conference presentations/papers resulting directly from the award

Content of progress reports describing the impact of COVID-19 related issues should align with information that has been previously relayed to the program officer.

NSF Updates to the Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) - Effective 10/5/20

• New Question for Project Reports with Active Other Support Changes
  • Has there been a change in the active other support of the PI/PD(s) since the last reporting period?
• Additional New Questions from the Revised RPPR
  • What was the impact on teaching and educational experiences? (Impact tab);
  • What percentage of the award’s budget was spent in a foreign country? (Impact tab); and
Has there been a change in primary performance site location from that originally proposed? (Changes/Problems tab).

Publications
Sponsors normally require acknowledgement of their support in all related publications. Often, the sponsor has specific requirements on how the acknowledgement must read. Please refer to the notice of award or the sponsor guidelines at the time a publication is submitted to ensure compliance with any requirements.

Publication costs should be allocated across all active Yale awards that are cited in the publication.

It is very important that only those grants or contracts that directly contributed to the research reported in the publication be cited.

Equipment
Equipment should not be purchased in the last few months of an award without strong justification. Allocation of cost methodology for split-use must be documented and included at time of requisition/purchase.

Other Policies
The National Defense Authorization Act (FY19 NDAA) places limits on the use of certain telecommunications equipment or services produced or provided by Huawei Technologies Company, ZTE Corporation, Hytera Communications Corporation, Hangzhou Hikvision Digital Technology Company, Dahua Technology Company, and any subsidiary or affiliate of these entities. Accordingly, the university generally prohibits use of IT Systems produced by, or incorporating any technology, equipment, or services from, one of these entities for university business unless approval is obtained from Yale’s Director for Export Controls. This general prohibition extends to IT Systems not owned by Yale. If Users become aware of telecommunications equipment or services covered by this section being used or potentially used to conduct Yale business, please contact the Director for Export Controls.

The FY19 NDAA also included a related prohibition on the use of loan and grant funds. OMB’s final guidance on 2 CFR Part 200 (Uniform Guidance) was published on August 13, 2020 and covers financial assistance (grants/cooperative agreements). Under this guidance, subrecipients are now prohibited from obligating or expending loan or grant funds to procure or obtain, equipment, services, or systems that use covered telecommunications equipment or services as a substantial or essential component of any system, or as a critical technology as part of any system.

In essence, the purchase or use of prohibited equipment or services provided by Huawei
UPCOMING eRA COMMONS CHANGES

eRA Commons will be undergoing some design changes, which will be launched in January, per NIH Notice NOT-OD-21-028, Rollout of Redesigned eRA Commons Home and Landing Screens in January 2021.

New Home Screen (log-in screen)

Figure 1: Screenshots of existing and future eRA Commons log-in screens
Key features

- Key information will be front and center – eRA Service Desk contact info, links to register an organization, how to create an account, how to submit a reference letter and to learn more about how to use eRA systems.
- Easy access to ‘quick queries’; the queries help users figure out if their organization is already registered in Commons, which grants are pending closeout and more.
- System updates will be provided in the Recent News section.

New Landing Screen (after log-in)

Key Features (after log-in)

- A significant improvement will be that once logged in, easy access to other eRA modules within eRA Commons will be through a 9-square apps menu at the top left of the screen. Clicking the icon will present a dropdown menu to navigate to other eRA modules (see Figure 3).
• Gone are the days of cluttered navigation bars. After login, prominent buttons for the frequently used modules, Status, ASSIST, Personal Profile, and Account Management, will get you to where you want to go quickly.
• Large buttons under “Learn How to Use eRA Systems” provide access to eRA informational webpages for applicants, grantees, and reviewers.

Apps Icon with eRA Modules Menu

Note: SAMHSA users, once logged in, will go to the SAMHSA box on the landing page (next to the iEdison box), choose from the drop-down menu listing Amendments, Continuations and Supplements, and then click the Go button.
